“Unlocking Tomorrow's Workforce” captures South Africa's journey towards building a resilient, skilled, innovative and inclusive labour market that embraces both technological advancement and human potential. This encompasses Global Business Solutions' commitment to our clients to assist them with all aspects of 'minds', 'bytes' and 'rights'.

Our speakers this year promise to encompass all of these vital elements of business success that will be required to thrive and survive as we move deeper into the 4th industrial revolution and approach the 5th industrial revolution.

So far on the line-up of experts we have: Jonathan Goldberg and Craig Kirchmann who will share their wealth of knowledge on the changing Labour Law Landscape given the massive labour law review coming out of NEDLAC. Courtenay Botha and John Botha will take an in-depth and practical look at Artificial Intelligence in the context of Human Resources and labour relations, by demonstrating a number of BOTS and the results of their ROI based on client feedback. Jaco Pretorius will discuss and give deep insight into the latest developments in economics and the labour market impact. In addition, we will be hearing from industry leaders including Thembi Chagonda, Mark Busson and more, on the latest developments in remuneration governance and transformation arising from the employment equity amendments.

The Annual Employment Conference (AEC) is the perfect way end Q1 of 2025 and to gain insight for the remainder of the year, offering an in-depth overview of the mega-trends shaping workplace and workforce developments. With leading economists, labour law experts, clinical psychologists, AI development and implementation experts in employment relations, and other industry specialists, the AEC is a must-attend.

Whether you're in human resources, employment relations, labour law, leadership, management, temporary employment services or transformation, this conference will be a game changer for both your career and your business.
